

First PEG Recipients Named

The newest resource for young burn survivors is PEG, The Phoenix Educational Grant Program. We hope you are as excited as we are about the national effort to help young survivors find a meaningful place in our society with the help of an education.

This year at the World Burn Congress attendees witnessed the first PEG awards given to four very deserving and outstanding students. Their personal experiences of strength and courage impact their peers and the burn community by demonstrating that one can survive and thrive beyond a devastating injury.

The importance of this program to the awardees renews our enthusiasm to meet our goal of creating a $200,000 PEG Endowment. We are one quarter of the way to our goal. The income from the PEG Endowment Fund provides for yearly scholarships FOREVER. We invite you to help us achieve our goal for the education of young burn survivors by making a tax deductible gift. Truly, the greatest gift we can give young burn survivors is the gift of knowledge.

The 2002 recipients are:

Erin Aucoin, Louisiana

Ryan Douglas, Texas

Christine Jurus, Michigan

Laurie Sulfaro, New Hampshire
